Excerpt from The Optimist's Good Morning
Yet the need of spiritual adjustment is ever the same. Rapid transit, the telephone, the telegraph, do not take the place Of God. Indeed the more rapid pace involved in these modern pace-makers, renders the more necessary some pause in the day for prayer, some upward look, when for a moment the soul may find an open way between itself and God. But how and when? Why not the breakfast table? Surely one or two minutes may be spared. Thirty seconds of silence, then the reading of a noble sentiment from some one who has been think ing for us, - another pause, -and a few words of prayer, framed by some one with more leisure than we have, but who puts us in the mood of prayer and so starts us right upon the duties of the day, this will bring the needed readjustment.
