No Cheers Outside the Gate Bryan C Sloat
You are a teenager in the 1960's with not a care in the world. Then unexpectedly you have to leave college because you're broke and then you have to re-register with the Selective Service. You are brought up to be patriotic and to do whatever it takes for the support of your country. You are sent to Vietnam twice and life changes. This is the true story of how I became a man after searching the world over while in the military. It's a story about my first kill and the effects it had. It's a story about cultures in other parts of the world that I went to and being blessed by the Pope while I was in Rome. A lot of respect for the military that we have today was not the same during the Vietnam era and self respect was not the same either. Bryan Sloat traveled all over the world while in the US Navy and his experiences molded him into a person that became a successful contributor to his family, friends and community. He has studied mechanical engineering, served as a police officer, a deputy fire chief and an engineering consultant.
